Daylilies & Downtown Flowers

The beautiful daylily in the background above is one of the 100 plus daylilies donated to the city last year by the Columbia River Daylily Club. Most of the gorgeous daylilies blooming in the downtown were provided by the club members. We greatly appreciate it.

Even though we didn't formally join America in Bloom this year, Kopacz Nursery still provided us with the gorgeous hanging baskets on Main and Thielsen and at city hall.

Please take the opportunity to thank them and let them know how much you appreciate the beauty they add to our community each year.

is sponsored by the Oregon College Savings Plan Program. Students signing up for the program can enter to win a $500 Oregon College Savings Account and the winning child's library also get $500.

*“Christopher Leebrick, has dazzled audiences with his remarkable storytelling ability since he was just thirteen years old. Children and adults throughout the United States enjoy his extensive repertoire of world folk tales, legends, whoppers, and original stories. From the hills of Appalachia to the cowboy country of the Oregon high desert, from Edgar Allan Poe to Dr. Seuss, from native America to Africa, Christopher offers a cornucopia of the world’s most entertaining tales. Chris performs at school assemblies, library summer reading programs, festival concerts, college and university shows, church events, and perhaps the most fun of all—stories around the campfire!
